Project :

Filtering Instagram Hashtags Through
Crowdtagging and the HITS Algorithm

Description:

Instagram is a rich source for mining descriptive tags for images and multimedia in general. The tags-image pairs can be used to train automatic image annotation (AIA) systems. Here it provides 20% of information related to the actual visual content of the image and we get totally different images information. Here to overcome this problem to use modified version of HITS algorithm and it provides an effective and consistent way for finding pairs of instagram images and hash tags, which leads representative and noise-free training sets for content based image retrieval.
